

30th January 2026

Dear Parent/Carers of Year 7,

Year 7 Science Set Changes

Year 7 students have recently completed their mid-year examinations. I would like to thank you for the support you have given your child in preparing for these assessments. Following the results, we have reviewed and re-set the Year 7 science classes.

These new sets will take effect from Monday 9th February. If you would like to see which teacher your child has, you can view this on Arbor by changing the calendar forward to week beginning 9th February.

If you notice that your child has a different science teacher and/or a different teaching group from this date, please be assured that all teachers in the department work closely together and have access to detailed information about each student's attainment, learning needs and areas for improvement.

Setting information:

- 7A1 and 7S1 are a top set
- All other classes are mixed ability sets. This means if your child has moved from 7A2 to 7A4, they have not gone 'down' two sets, we have just mixed up the group of students in each class.

All students will receive a new timetable and students moving sets will need to take home their science books in their last lesson this week ready to take to their first lesson of science in their new room next week. New timetables will be issued to students so they know where they need to go following the change, but this can also be accessed on Arbor.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs Markham

Head of Science
